OPERATES FROM UNCHARTED AFRICA CAMPS IN THE MAKGADIKGADI PANS IN BOTSWANA

Ndabona (or Bones as he is known) was born in the Makgadikgadi area and aged 10 years old did his first crossing of the Makgadikgadi pans, on horseback, traveling from Xingara on the northern side to Rakops in the south. It was here, guided by elders and travelling at night under a full moon, that he decided he would one day be a guide in this unique region of Botswana.

He found this opportunity in 1999 when he became a guide with Uncharted Africa, starting out of Planet Baobab and then heading the guides at Camp Kalahari.

Ndabona has been guiding for 22 years and he guided at Camp Kalahari, San Camp and Jack's Camp. He draws on a rare and comprehensive insight into the Makgadikgadi area, afforded by a lifetime's commitment to his environment.
